Course descriptions and objectives :

This course addresses the social, political, and intellectual directions of European history from the Congress of Vienna to the end of the nineteenth century. Particular attention will be paid to the role of ideologies such as Romanticism, Conservatism, Liberalism, and Socialism and the evolution of political structures in Great Britain,

Germany, France, Italy, and Russia

Attendance policies: Students whose number of absences is more than twice the number of class meetings per week (4 per semester) may be assigned a failing grade for the course at the discretion of the instructor. Students who have more absences than the number of class meetings per week but less than twice the number of class meetings per week (3 per semester), may be docked a letter grade for the class at the discretion of the instructor. Students who have absences which are less than or equal to the number of class meetings per week (1 or 2 per semester) will not be penalized.

The instructor endeavors to begin class punctually. If a student is not in his seat when the roll is called, or if a student leaves class early, the student will be recorded as tardy. Two tardies equals one absence. If you anticipate being late to class please notify the instructor beforehand.

Student Code of Conduct: Middle Georgia State University students are responsible for reading, understanding, and abiding by the MGSU Student Code of Conduct. Student Code of Conduct, Responsibilities, Procedures, and Rights are found at: Syllabus Page link below.

Examinations and other assignments should always be the students own work. Plagiarism, cheating, or academic fraud will be punished by an F in the course and other sanctions may be imposed by the university. Please read Code of Conduct (see at syllabus page link below) carefully to make sure that you understand these concepts, and ask the instructor if you have any questions.

Electronics Policy: Computers and other electronic devices may be used in class for note taking and class related research only. Cell phones should be switched off and stored. In the event of a family emergency, please request permission in advance to leave your phone on.
